

Base Operations

Base Operations, a multi-faceted department, included Security, Fire Department and Special Services.

During the transition from Army to Navy control, Navymen with scant training began relieving the Army MP's. By the end of 1973, Navy SP's had assumed all functions of security for the base.

The base fire department, supervised by Navymen and manned by local nationals, boasted an enviable safety record as an integral part of the security team.

Special Services played a major role in the daily lives of base personnel - tennis courts, swimming pool, theater, bowling alleys, organized athletics, the clubs, library, base-wide picnics, the guest house, and the Red Sea Rest Center - all of these were operated by the 12 Navymen and 180 local national employees of Special Services.
